Subscriptions & Manuscripts

Raven: A Journal of Vexillology is published annually by the North American Vexillological Association (NAVA), 1977 North Olden Avenue, Suite 225, Trenton, New Jersey 08618, U.S.A. Address manuscripts and correspondence concerning them to the attention of the Raven editor. All other correspondence may be addressed to the Raven managing editor.

Subscriptions: US$12.00 per year for non-NAVA members; add US$3.00 for postage outside of North America. Back issues are US$15.00 post-paid. A subscription is a benefit of membership in NAVA. Membership information is available by contacting the NAVA membership committee.

Manuscripts: Send a paper copy of your manuscript, together with copies of any associated photographs or figures, to the Raven editor. If you wish to have the material returned, you must include a self-addressed envelope with sufficient postage. All manuscripts are subject to a juried review. Production of accepted manuscripts will be eased by submission of the text on computer disk.

Material appearing in Raven does not necessarily reflect the policy or opinion of NAVA, the NAVA executive board, or the Raven editors.

Information concerning permission to reprint articles is available from the Raven managing editor.
Contents

Where No Flag Has Gone Before: Political and Technical Aspects of Placing a Flag on the Moon
Anne M. Platoff 3

The Controversy Over the Alamo Battle Flag
John H. Gámez 17

Vexillaria
Kevin Harrington 28

A Canadian Flag for Canada
Alistair B. Fraser 30

Evolutionary Vexillography: One Flag’s Influence in Modern Design
Don Healy 41

“Battle Born” Vexillology: The Nevada State Flag and Its Predecessors
James J. Ferrigan III 65
The North American Vexillological Association (NAVA) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to the promotion of vexillology, the scientific and scholarly study of flag history and symbolism. Its members include men and women in all fields of vexillology, including flag collectors, flag historians, government officials, museum directors, flag manufacturers, encyclopedia editors, and those interested in flags as a hobby. NAVA publishes the journal Raven: A Journal of Vexillology and the newsletter NAVA News, holds annual conventions, undertakes special projects, and participates in international vexillological events. Membership information is available by contacting the Membership Committee, North American Vexillological Association, 1977 North Olden Avenue, Suite 225, Trenton, New Jersey 08618, U.S.A.

1993–1994 NAVA executive board

Scot M. Guenter, President
Richard A. Kenny, Vice President
Mary Ann Docktor-Smith, Corresponding Secretary
Peter B. Edwards, Recording Secretary
Charles A. Spain, Jr., Treasurer
San Jose, Calif.
Oakland, Calif.
Chicago
Toronto
Austin, Tex.

Donors

NAVA gratefully acknowledges the generous financial assistance for the publication of Raven by the following individuals:

Peter B. Edwards
Barbara and Lee L. Herold
Whitney Smith